Scotland

From Edinburgh's sandstone streets to prehistoric Skara Brae, a sense of history colors the heart of Scotland. This is the land of poets such as Robert Burns. Of the heroic as epitomized by William Wallace and Mary, Queen of Scots. This is the country where every town has a story, and every corner reveals intrigue and fascinating insights. It's not all history, of course. Scotland's vibrant present includes hiking, championship golf, and bustling cities. Scotland truly has something for every kind of client.

Private Group Tours: The Choices are All Yours

Private Chauffeur

When you want to look at the world around you as you travel, consider a private chauffeur. Feel the ease and just relax.

Luxury Coaches

For small groups, a luxury coach is ideal. Relax in comfort and enjoy each other's company. You're on the road to adventure!

Arrival & Departure Transfers

There's no need to worry about time or getting oriented. You'll be picked up from the airport and taken to your hotel upon arrival. When it's time to head home, you can relax and let your driver get you to the airport with time to spare.

Rental Cars

When you want the experience of spontaneously exploring an area, a rental car may be just right for you. We'll arrange the sort of car you want, and you can go anywhere you please at the drop of a hat.

Private Chauffeur

We believe that many meaningful experiences can only be found on the road less traveled, which is why each of our itineraries includes at least one Authentic Secret Spot. These are special places, known to the locals, but hidden from the guidebooks. They are guaranteed to give your clients a lifetime of stories and memories. For especially discerning travelers, consider a chauffeur-driven classic car.

Celebration!

Let us plan a special celebration of all things Scottish. Whether you want a gala evening, a group dinner in a castle or manor, or day-long signature festivities, we can make it happen. Let us wine and dine you with traditional cuisine, entertainment, and whisky tastings.

And, of course, you can be assured that we will arrange transportation to and from events and lodgings, regardless of the location and number of people. We have a wide range of vehicles to choose from—the choices are all yours!

What's in a Tartan?

A tartan is more than a woolen cloth woven in plaid patterns. As a matter of fact, the Celts have been weaving tartans for at least 3,000 years. They are associated with different clans or family groups. Some colors are bold, some are quiet, and others have very fine lines. During times of oppression, Scots wore tartans to declare their independence to outsiders. (And, of course, all of us have wondered, at one time or another, what is worn beneath that tartan kilt!) The tartan of every group, regardless of its design, represents unity and pride!

Create a Unique Tartan

When you think of Scotland, a tartan or kilt comes immediately to mind. Scots are well-known for their heroic men wearing kilts, but it's much more than clothing. It has a history that's rowdy and rebellious. And, in the present, you'll even see tartans in designer collections.

Now you can create your own tartan. Choose colors that define you. Patterns that are bold or dignified. Have fun with this, and let your imagination run wild. A tartan maker, who has been in business for 6 generations, will put it together for you. (Their company holds three Royal Warrants of Appointment as Tailors and Kiltmakers, and they have supplied the British Royal Family for 95 years.)

- This stunning souvenir would start at a cost of $50 per item for a beautiful 100% lambswool scarf, based on a minimum order of 500 pieces. We have a range of items to choose from at varying prices.
